Couple Marry In Mexico

Mr. and Mrs. Emilio Castillo of 601 S.W. 3rd St., Belle Glade announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Esther Castillo to Mike Andrew Trammell, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Trammell, 672 S.E. 4th St., Belle Glade.

The couple was married in Piedras Negras, Mexico on May 4, 1968 in a double ring ceremony. Their only attendants were Leocadio Polanco and Belle Polanco of 116 S.W. Ave. E, Belle Glade.

While there the newlyweds were guests of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Miguel Canales in Uruapan, Tazaco.

The bride attended Belle Glade High School and is employed at Carmen's Dress Shop. Mr. Trammell attended Belle Glade High School and is presently employed by Kahn's Department Store.

Mrs. Freedlund Back From Tour Via Paris

Mrs. J. L. Freedlund has returned from a Tour of Europe by bus. Luckily the Gateway Tour, which was supposed to fly from Paris to New York, had an alert Director who hired a bus to take the members of the Tour to Brussels, Belgium. They got up at 6 A.M. and arrived at Brussels at 6 P.M. only two hours late in waiting. For lunch they were served ham sandwiches and a choice of drinks. The local women's Guide told them that was the last of the bread in the restaurant, because of the strikes.

Only part of the baggage was in the plane when they arrived in New York, and of course all the flights had gone. TWA took good care of all passengers. THOUGHT OF THE WEEK

PATRIOTISM IS NOT NECESSARILY INCLUDED IN REBELLION. A MAN MAY HATE HIS KING, YET NOT LOVE HIS COUNTRY. —Samuel Johnson

SENSING THE NEWS

By Thurman Sensing
EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

One of the big success stories of recent years has been the technical education programs sponsored by the states and carried out with the cooperation and assistance of private enterprise. Great numbers of working people, whose occupations either weren't very rewarding or whose life has been virtually abolished by automation, have learned new skills and found new employment in industry.

These technical training programs have proved to be a roaring success wherever the heavily funded War on Poverty programs have been a dismal failure. Part of the reason why is that the former are dealing with the best type of human material — people who are eager to work. Fortunately, despite all the brainwashing the American people have been subjected to on welfareism, the vast majority of our citizens want to work. They are what the sociologists call "incentive."

They prefer to stand on their own feet and support themselves rather than be supported by the federal government. There is, however, a very different element in this country — an element that is described as the hard core non-worker. These are the people who are dole-dependent. It isn't fashionable to refer to anyone as a dole. The "bleeding hearts" really begin to bleed if anyone suggests that these people are "bums" who want a free ride through life.

Yet the dole is a reality. Every society has had the problem of this element to some degree. Not all people are equally motivated. In the sharp edge of poverty lived the size of the non-productive dole population. There were absolute conditions of hunger and privation that drove men to take a job. They went to bed in the morning. Today this sharp edge of reality has been blunted. A million of social services reduce even the most severe "poverty," in today's terms, to relative deprivation — to not having as much as the next fellow.

The man or woman who doesn't want to work will find reality cushioned by federal handouts. He will be encouraged to believe that his difficult lot in life is the fault of society, not this own fault. Working citizens are told that their failure to provide more and bigger benefits for the non-workers is evidence that this is a "lucky society" and an "affluent society." They are told that they have an obligation to make a "contribution" of pocket money to the economically or socially "disadvantaged."

Certainly, charity always is a worthy thing. But it is not "charitable" in any true sense to encourage people to live in laziness or to make the self-indulgent citizen feel that he is immoral in not wanting to pay for more handouts.

We have the strange situation today wherein a flood of money is shed for the dole, for the aid-student, for the aid-servant in industry. The whole rhetoric of contemporary social printing is off-base. These self-indulgent citizens are told that they are committing violence when they don't do more for the "disadvantaged." Yet no one criticizes the violence being done to our society when a woman has five or six children out of wedlock and gives no thought to how they will be fed and housed. It is time for an end to the pet to the excessive subsidies involved on people who make a career of dependency in our society. The cultivation of wrap of values is damaging this country as much as a foreign country could do with bullets and tanks. This thought must have been in the minds of countless viewers who watched the television coverage of the Poor People's Campaign and heard one woman say she was joining the pilgrimage because her husband earned "only $100 a week."

This remark indicates very clearly the escalation of nonsense in America. Each year, the government does more to help the non-workers; and each year government helps more burdens on working citizens.

AIRMAN APPRENTICE GORDON

Airman Apprentice Jack H. Gordon, USAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gordon of Ocala Center, and husband of the former Miss Patricia L. Weathers of 225 N. W. Ave. D, all of Belle Glade, Fla., is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Saratoga.

The Saratoga is presently undergoing a scheduled 11-month overhaul at the Philadelphia Naval Shipyard.

PRIVATE WILLIAMS
Army Private First Class David R. Williams, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Williams, 972 S. E. Third St., Belle Glade, Fla., was assigned as a mortarman with the 1st Infantry Division May 14 near Phu Loi, Vietnam.

By Russell Kay
Treasure hunters have recovered millions of dollars worth of old coins and artifacts, silverware, jewelry, cannon and cannon balls and other items from the sands of Florida's east coast salvaged from sunken Spanish galleons lost as a result of storms and hurricanes.

An article in the June issue of the Reader's Digest entitled "Those Florida Treasure Hunters" by Don Wharton tells how treasure seekers from rank amateurs to professional outfits flocked to the Florida coast in ever increasing numbers.

Some of these fortune hunters simply walk the beaches after a severe storm hoping to find coins, jewelry or other items washed ashore by rough seas.

Others well organized and financed come with the latest in salvage equipment, metal detectors, pump capable of lifting and by use of the very latest in electronic equipment and diving gear.

The State of Florida claims title to any treasure found within the three mile limit, and treasure hunters operating in these waters must obtain a license and work under state supervision. The state receives 25% of the value of any recovery.

Twenty or more firms now have contracts with the state and conduct their operations under state supervision, usually with a state inspector aboard their salvage vessel.

During the past three years who generate the country's income. At the same time, sociologists and the "liberal" clergy protest louder and louder against employing the carrot or the stick to get the dole-drones element to support themselves. Efforts to make responsible citizens feel guilty about the non-workers are continuously intensified.

The United States will have to get to get off the "dole." What is in order now is less sympathy for all types of dole-drones in our society and more sympathy for those who busy themselves with working and learning and advancing themselves, their families and communities. The dole in life deserves a break.

MEN IN SERVICE

AIRMAN WRIGHT

Airman Samuel L. Wright, son of Mrs. Sue M. Wright of 113 W. Fifth St., Palokan, Fla., has completed basic training at Amarillo AFB, Tex. He has been assigned to the Air Force Technical Training Center at Sheppard AFB, Tex., for specialized schooling as an aircraft maintenance specialist.

Airman Wright, a graduate of East Lake High School, attended Palm Beach Junior College, Lake Worth, Fla.

PRIVATE CLARK

Army Private First Class Gary M. Clark, 26, whose father, James W. Clark, lives in Crystal, Fla., was assigned May 1 to the 104th Ordnance Battalion in Vietnam, as a security guard.

PRIVATE SPRINGS

Army Private First Class E. Springs, Jr., 20, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Springs, live in Immokalee, Fla., was assigned as a combat construction specialist in the 25th Infantry Division near Cu Chi, Vietnam, May 8.

His wife, Carol, lives on Route 1, Howard, Ohio.

Too Late to Classify

over three and a half million worth of treasure have been recovered from ships that were lost in the 16th century, much of it found in the Vero Beach-Pierce area where a convoy of 11 Spanish treasure ships went lost in 1715.

In 1964 professional treasure hunters located the sand covered wrecks of two of these ships within 500 feet of shore entitled to 20 feet of water. Using the most complex modern equipment, massive pumping and dredging systems, capable of clearing 8 by 10 foot sand in 10 through six feet of sand in 10 hours, they recovered 6,000 silver and gold coins plus artifacts ranging from cannon to pewter plates and silver table wear, jewelry including a commander's gold whistle on a 2-176 link chain that was sold last night at auction for $50,000.

The Florida Board of Archives and History estimates that there are between 1,300 to 2,000 shipwrecks in Florida coastal waters. It has precise data on the location of some 250 wrecks.

Wharton, in his interesting article, sounds a warning to be aware of sharp operators who have been taking suckers with promises of quick fortunes in treasure hunting.

One outfit with a perfectly legitimate operation takes work orders on a treasure hunting trip, charging $60 a day per person. They propose to anchor at wrecks and let the customer do diving equipment on a sort of do-it-yourself basis. They have even been known to plant or seed water in the area of an old wreck so that the suckers can find a few old coins in return for their investment. There are still millions of dollars buried in Florida's sands but be careful you are not sucked in on some scheme to get your money.

Flamenco Dancing Must Be Spain's National Dance

The Flamenco Dance is advertised in all the cities. This must be the national dance just as bullfighting is the national sport. Some of our group went to the Flamenco dancing in Gouda where gypsy dancing was included.

These gypsies lived in caves up on a hillside beyond the Alhambra. Four of us made reservations in Madrid one evening and took a taxi to the bells. The dancing starts at 11 P. M., though you can go as early as 9-10 for dinner. There were eight girls seated in chairs at the back of the stage. Their dresses were bright colors and fitted snugly over the hips and had three or four double wide ruffles at the bottom.

The necks were high in front but completely backless down to the waist.

The one male dancer had tight black pants, a white shirt with short ruffles and a very short red coat. There were male singers, and two guitarists.

Each girl came out and did a solo number, sometimes while a man was singing. All of the other seated dancers clapped in time with the music. This combined with the noise of the dancer's feet, was almost deafening. The dance is very strenuous and the girls' long hair, long earrings and voluminous ruffles were very colorful and entertaining. Each of them looked exhausted when the first dance was finished in the footwork of the man dancer was remarkable. He would change pace from fast to slow, much like a tap dancer.

Every since reading about the Royal Palace in the Miami Herald a few years ago, I have hoped to see it. The reason that this palace is more remarkable than any other in Europe is that the Royal family left in 1931. It was formerly a Moorish castle and is built of limestone, marble and wood.

It took twenty-four years to build and it was finished in 1728. It has 2,800 rooms and was used by the king until 1931. It was formerly a Moorish castle and is built of limestone, marble and wood.

The other rooms on the second floor were completely restored as it had a high dome which was demolished in the Revolution.

the walls. The floor was parquetry of two colors of wood in a geometric pattern. Franco uses this about once a year for a banquet.

As we came to the private chapel, music was playing. On one side was red velvet canopy with chains underneath for the king and queen. In every given time there were one or two clocks in every shape imaginable. Many had statues at the sides and on top. Some were carved in glass. One clock was in a bird cage, and there were many pendulum clocks.

One had a calendar with the month and year on it. The most interesting was a clock of shuffles having there ready to be used when that color was needed.

We had a full day excursion by motorcoach to Toledo which is 41 miles from Madrid. This was the capital of Spain in the fifteenth century, and now has a population of fifty thousand people. It is a national monument and nothing can be changed. It is twenty-two centuries old. Here is the oldest bull ring in Spain, 400 years old. It is a walled city with the Tague River guarding one side.

Perhaps the reason Toledo is so well known is that El Greco lived here the last half of his life. There is a replica of a 16th century house, called the "House of El Greco," though we are sure if the artist lived in this particular house.

There are iron grills at the window — to keep the women in and the men out. There were plain wooden beamed ceilings. The floors were short and the chairs and beds carved mahogany.

The ceiling in each room was decorated, some with figures of people and in many of the corners were small statues or just heads. This is the most elegant of all the places we have visited.

Franco lives in El Pardo, a short distance from Madrid, and comes in for state functions once a month and to receive and entertain visiting dignitaries. This palace is a state museum and is open to the public.

A few of us took a taxi to the Tapestry Factory. The first factory was established in 1766. At this time over seventy pieces in gold and silver were woven for the Royal Palace.

In the display room were money samples of tapestry in the shapes of flowers, birds, and pictures by Goya, and above it the exact reproduction in tapestry. In the first room we visited they were making rugs — yarn in all colors behind the workers.

The wool was pulled through the framework, knotted and then cut. They were making a rug for Princess Grace of Monaco, which was gray with sprays of gold and orange. Many women were weaving old worn out tapestries. In the rug room where the tapestries are being made, men and women work together on one piece. The framework is held by a big round polished log at top and bottom and strings are close together and tight.

The picture to be copied is pasted on the wall. Then this picture is placed back of the workers. The piece of tapestry is made on its side with the bottom to our right. The people pull a few strands together and pass a shuttle with colored wool through, then it is pressed down. The back of the tapestry has dozens of shuffles having there ready to be used when that color was needed.

There was a beautiful courtyard with a good view of the city. There was a large brick-arched tunnel leading down to the river, seven stories below. This was used to escape if needed.

Only a very few of El Greco's pictures are in this house. I liked "The Tears of St. Peter" very much — such a sad expression on his face.

There was a beautiful mirror with about one-third of it with a low ceiling over the open fire and benches on either side. Wood is burned underneath the kitchen floor to keep it warm.

We learned that beams are cured by keeping them in the sun for one year, then hanging them over the open fire for months.

We visited a fourteenth century synagogue with the ceiling made like the keel of a ship. Cedar wood was used with mother-of-pearl, ivory and precious stones. Figures of castles, lions and the star were used in decoration.

This is now a Catholic church. The reason the mosques and synagogues were converted to churches was because they were too good to be destroyed.

Uncle Dan from Doolie

Dear Mister Editor:

Sometimes the fellows at the country store was surprised at the ideas they come up with. Like Saturday night when Zake Gled started talking politics. Zake, says he always votes for the man that makes the biggest promises with the straightest face, allowed as how we got to face the noise in this national election year.

None of the fellows ever took Zake for a philosopher but politics was a subject the fellows enjoy, particular Ed Doolittle and Clem Webster, so Zake gave the floor with the understanding that Ed and Clem was entitled to equal time in case Zake's politics got too far off base.

First off, Zake said politics in this country was operated on the bribe patch system. The whole idea is to get the other fellow to do what you want him to do because he's thought of it first. The surest way to figure a man would like to run for office is to listen to him say he wouldn't have it as a gift. That's the old habit hoping the fox will throw him in the bribe patch. Candidates like winners, Zake went on, they let a man court her until she catches him.

Prity soon, said Zake, that old bribe in the bribe patch turns into a bar baby. After the citizens find out he's got the good of the country, the bribe gets elected and the citizens was stuck with him. It's the voters that got outstaged, was the way Zake put it.

Ed, that usual don't say nothing good about no politician since Lincoln, said that when you get right down to it, politics is a way of life in this country that all Americans had ought to be thankful for. Sometimes, he said, it looks like one bunch of people trying to keep their rascals in and another bunch trying to get them rascals out and get their rascals in.

But Ed went on to say he always tries to keep in mind the little story he heard about the Russian voter that started 65,000 at his ballot box. The story was that all Americans at the box told him he wasn't allowed to look at the ballot on account of he was voting the Russian secret ballot. Politics in a democracy at least gives folks a choice of rascals.

That was Ed put it.

Zake, Clem, and Ed was all agreed on this point. Clem said politics in America may be funny, but they ain't nothing funny about living in this country that all Americans got no politics. When all the fellows discussed this philosophy, Mister Editor, we adjourned the session on a harmonious note, as the politicians say.

Yours truly,
Uncle Dan

Meaning & Purpose Of WSCS Heard By New Organization

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of South Bay Methodist Church conducted the May meeting at the home of Mrs. Morgan Tyson, Wednesday, May 22 at 8 p. m.

"The Meaning and Purpose of the Woman's Society of Christian Service was the program topic."

During the business meeting, Mrs. N. H. Campbell was elected chairman of the Sunshine Fund, which includes in case of bereavements, lending sympathy card and taking covered dish to family.

Where Are The Saved?

If we can be saved and not be in the church...

Why did Christ buy the church? Acts 20:28

Why did Christ build His church? Matt. 16:18

Why is Christ the Saviour of the church? Eph. 5:23

Why do we find the saved in the church? Acts 2:47

Why is "church" mentioned so many times in the Bible?

The Belle Glade church of Christ invites you to attend each and every service.

Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alas! Necromancy and Hypnotism, Denounced.

"They that were against thee shall be as nothing and as a thing of naught. For I the Lord thy God will hold thee right in thy saying, and thou shalt fear: not I will help thee."

These verses from Isaiah are the Golden Text of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday, "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alas! Necromancy and Hypnotism, Denounced" is the title of the Lesson.

The service is open to the public.

Passages from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include these lines, "At all times and under all circumstances, overcome evil with good. Know thyself, and God will supply the wisdom and the occasion for a victory over evil."

Ladies Auxiliary Officers Seated

The home of Mrs. Tillie Roth, 116 NW Ave. J, last Thursday, was the scene of a gay and pleasant social gathering for the ladies of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Belle Glade church.

The group decided that a bake sale would be held on June 15 and place to be announced.

Attending were Mrs. Homer Lathum, Mrs. Ruth Scholer, Mrs. Ronnie Perkins, Mrs. Morgan Tyson, Mrs. Buddy Livley, Mrs. W. L. Phillips, Mrs. Ted Williams, Mrs. W. T. Campbell, Mrs. Ben Austin, Mrs. Kenneth Sands and Mrs. Gail Allen, a visitor.

The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served by the hostess Mrs. Tyson. Mrs. Lathum will be hostess to the next monthly meeting on June 26. Anyone interested in joining or visiting with this group is cordially invited to attend.

WITNESSES BAPTIZE 23 MINISTERS AT CONVENTION

John C. Rainbow, city supervisor of the Belle Glade congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, said the three-day seminar in West Palm Beach was a success.

The program Friday evening highlighted the Assembly theme, "Rainbow continued. Strengthening One Another to Remain in the Faith." The symposium of ministers showed how to progressively do this.

The Saturday program saw the baptizing of 23 new ministers. Last year alone, he stated, "74,981 were baptized worldwide. That would be about one individual every 10 minutes that becomes one of Jehovah's Witnesses."

The peak attendance of 1562 was reached Sunday for the widely publicized lecture "Why Don't God Permit Wickedness?" delivered by B. E. Giffen, District Supervisor from the Watchtower Society's headquarters in New York. Turning to the Bible book of Genesis, he said how wickedness started with rebellion of Adam and Eve.

Answering the question why rebellion was not arrested at the time it started, Mr. Giffen stated: "True, God could have wiped out the rebellion at its start, but that would not have satisfactorily settled matters. Therefore, God has permitted a full measure of time for rebellion and its inevitable leader, Satan, to build up their organization. In this way God has enabled all intelligent creation, both in the invisible spirit realm and on earth, to see the consequences of rebellion."

"What is the reason?" he continued. "Has the course of rebellion against God proved better for mankind? Has it brought them lasting happiness?"

In conclusion Mr. Giffen said, "Surely God's long permission of rebellion and its resulting wickedness prove to all reasonable men that satisfactory rule of earth's affairs is impossible apart from God. That is what God told man in the beginning. Consequently, God will not allow rebellion to ruin the earth."

WSCS ELECTS OFFICERS HOLDS MEMORIAL SERVICE

Mrs. J. A. Funder was re-elected President of the Women's Society of Christian Service of Community Methodist Church at the General Meeting on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Robert Bussey conducted an impressive Memorial Service for the members of the Society who have gone on to the Father's House: Mrs. Neva Kiddle, Mrs. Ruth Thompson, Mrs. Lucille Roth, and honorary member Mr. E. C. Mapp.

This portion of the service concluded with a solo by Miss Kathryn Smith, "When They Ring Those Golden Bells."

The Pledge Service was conducted by the Joy Circle. The main feature of the Worship Center was a large cross on which were fastened the words: "Humility, Mercy, and Compassion," all attributes we should consider as we use our money. Members came forward and placed their pledges at the base of the cross. Those taking part in the service were Mrs. Lois Ruff, Mrs. Jeanette Fincannon, Mrs. Eloise Hinkle, Mrs. Dale Bussey and Miss Margaret West.

Another special feature of the evening was the awarding of the annual Special Membership Pin for service to the church and the Women's Society. This year's award was given to Mrs. Fred C. White.

Other officers elected were: Vice-President, Mrs. R. E. Tucker; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Fred White; Treasurer, Mrs. Wes Jones. Chairmen of special areas are: Spiritual Growth, Mrs. Robert Bussey; Christian Social Relations, Mrs. G. P. Farrell; Local Church Responsibility, Mrs. F. C. Schoenfeld; Missionary Education, Mrs. A. R. Miner; Membership, Mrs. Margaret West; member of the Nominating Committee, Mrs. R. W. Bussey. Circle Chairmen are: Mrs. G. P. Farrell, Mrs. W. H. Hooker, and Mrs. S. K. Smith Jr.

SURVIVAL TRIP

Troop 601 sponsored by St. John's Episcopal Church found survival trip this past weekend, May 25th and 26th.

The Troop went to Fish-eating Creek on their annual survival trip. The trip was a success and the group returned with a wealth of survival kit.

Survival kit consisted of: Water purification tablets, 2 pieces of plastic sheeting, aluminum foil, waterproof matches, blanket, canteen, blanket, knife, food, salt, cooking oil, personal first aid kit, fishing line, traps, hooks, ratchet and compass. All of these had to be contained in a packet no larger than a shaving kit, with plastic and blanket in a horse-shoe roll with one piece of plastic outside to form a water proof cover.

The fish were not very cooperative, snakes nonexistent, and the armadillos were too fast so food was scarce.

Adults surviving were Scoutmaster Reg Lewis, Dick Shoemaker and Stan Allgood. Transportation was furnished by Herman Cross, Dick Shoemaker and Reg Lewis.

Scouts attending: Senior Patrol Leaders Steve and Scott Berryhill, Jr. Asst. Scoutmaster Steve Cross, Pamper Patrol—Steve Pace, Ryan Cross, Craig Pace, Louis Parker and Mark Fink.

McDONALD MUNICIPAL PARK was the scene of the dedication of this yellow Tabebuia tree to Mrs. Ivan Horn (L-of tree) for her outstanding work in the Garden Club. Mrs. Lennie Warren (2nd-R) represented the Belle Glade Garden Club and gave the dedicatory address, which was followed by the unveiling of the bronze plaque at the foot of the tree, with the inscription "Gertrude Van Horn for Meritorious Service—Belle Glade Garden Club." Among those attending the event were L.E. Mrs. Gladys McDonald, Mrs. Della Altman, Mrs. D. C. DeHaven, Mrs. F. E. Hollingsworth, Mrs. F. C. Fessenden, Mrs. Van Horn, Mrs. Agnes Thomas, Mrs. W. T. Chesnut, State Corral, Sec. Mrs. Anne G. Noe, Dist. Director, Vero Beach, Mrs. Irvin Zampit, Mrs. Thelma Gwinn, treas., flower arrangements calendar from Boca Raton, Mrs. Bertha Markham, Mrs. Millie Brackley, Mrs. Lloyd Handley, assistant district director from Pahokee, and others. The dedication was held following the District Presidents Conference held at the Civic Center.

BG GARDEN CLUB DEDICATES TREE TO MRS. IVAN VAN HORN

Since coming to Belle Glade in 1935, Mrs. Ivan Van Horn has been active in raising flowers, shrubs, and trees and in Garden Club work. She became president of the Belle Glade Garden Club in 1949-50. She was instrumental in getting the park grounds, which was donated by the county, cleaned up, and donated many trees, plants and seeds such as Central Apple, Hibiscus and others. She served in all offices of the club and on various committees and as chairman.

She was Director of District 6, Florida Federation of Garden Clubs for two years and later when it was split, she served as director District 10 for one year. During this time she traveled many miles all over the state, instructing and demonstrating as well as giving to the local club, valuable information and guiding them in flower shows. The one using ing, corsage making. She holds a National certificate of State Garden Club Landscape Design Critics; has a life membership in the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs. Another honor of which she can be justly proud is her master's degree in Flower Show Judging which required 12 to 14 years of study and judging to attain.

"Every minute was worthwhile, I feel that I have gotten more out of it than I put in," Mrs. Van Horn, modestly remarked.

Golf Team Receives Honors

Two members of the golf team at Belle Glade High School have received honors this year.

Tom Altman has been named to the 1st team all area. He also placed first in the Western Division Conference Match.

Tom has been playing golf for four years and has been a member of the golf team for three years.

Tom is very active as a member of the Student Council, 13-20 Club, and the football team. He served as president of the Internet Club this year and will be president of Teen Town next year.

Altman plans to be a golf pro, but modestly comments, "I didn't play as good this year as I expected to."

Aggie Griesinger made the 2nd team all area and placed Second in the Western Division Conference Match. In her second year on the team, Aggie is the number one player on the girls' team.

Golf Coach Bill Burke commented, "She has a good temperament for golf and has good shots when it's working for her."

Aggie enjoys golf and loves playing on different courses.

Evans Speaks On Evolution

By Zalik Shapiro

A hundred years ago the idea that man may have evolved from another form of life was not discussed in public society, let alone in our schools or in the school newspaper. Yet today few people question Darwin's Theory on evolution and it is candidly discussed in our classrooms. When this writer interviewed Mr. John Evans, our BSCS teacher he was quite willing to discuss the subject.

The first question that was asked Mr. Evans was "What do you expect the future trends in the teaching of biology to be?"

MR. EVANS: "It is my belief that there will be more of the lecture and lab type classes than there have been with the traditional methods of teaching biology."

The interview continued with my question "Would you compare the BGHS program with the traditional methods of teaching biology?"

MR. EVANS: "It has more lab investigations."

"Is there a difference in the teaching of the theory of evolution with BGHS?"

"No just with the approach."

"What approach?"

"You approach evolution more on how it affects life today, not as a straight theory."

"As a scientist, what is your view on the theory of evolution?"

"I believe evolution to be completely factual simply because it can be observed occurring right now. Most people confuse evolution (which means life is continually changing to adapt to environment) in that they immediately say it is contradictory to their beliefs and convictions. Proof for evolution lies in many, many accounts of controlled experiments done by scientists over the past century. One such recent experiment was done by Dr. Sidney Fox at Florida State University when he synthetically made a life-like cell. Other proof can be found for evolution in the study of fossils. If evolution cannot occur, how does one account for the different types of fossils which have been found that show the changes organisms have undergone as the environment changed."

The final question that we asked Mr. Evans was, "What do you believe to be the future of the theory?"

"As for Darwin's Theory, it is probably as good as any other theory. It has not been disproved nor has it been proved completely fact. There will probably be changes made in it as time goes on. Darwin himself thought this. No matter how one believes the method of evolution to be, if he looks at the facts (open-mindedly) he would have to agree that evolution occurs. I try myself never to lose sight of the fact that evolution didn't just happen however, it had direction and meaning. Darwin too believed this it seems to me, after reading from 'The Origin of Species.' There is grandeur in this view of life, with its several powers, having been originally breathed by the Creator into a few forms or into one; and that, while this planet has gone cycling on according to the fixed law of gravity, from so simple a beginning, endless forms most beautiful and wonderful have been, and are being evolved."

Throughout the interview Mr. Evans emphasized the fact that evolution is now regarded to be true by practically everyone. He also made clear that he was not trying to contradict any religious beliefs.

President of the Week

the class proved their ability to work together. They had the honor of winning the float competition at Homecoming. They were headed by their class president, Sonny Crawford. Of his class, Sonny said to the seniors, "We'll be the best senior class ever, just come back and see!"

Sonny was born on November 18, 1952 in McComb, Mississippi. He moved to Belle Glade 5 years ago. Sonny is the son of Otis Crawford, football coach at Belle Glade High School. Varsity football, baseball, basketball and track fill his athletic curriculum to overflowing. Sonny is a Marshall in Demolay. When asked what his future plans were, Sonny replied that playing college football placed at his number one goal. But Sonny has two more years at BGHS and his horoscope reads — an active leader of his class.

Class Night

Tomorrow night at 8:00, the Belle Glade High School Gymnasium will be filled with the proud families and friends of the 1968 Graduating Class. They will be there for the Senior's Class Night.

The idea on which this year's Class Night is based is the Academy Awards. For the first time, the presentation of awards and skits by the class have been combined. The skits will involve satires on several current movies, while the awards will cover General Excellence in various fields, Citizenship, and Honorary Awards. The highest honors are Best-All-Around girl and boy, which are selected by the teachers.

The Interact club of Belle Glade High held their annual Banquet May 24 at the Dixie Inn.

The sponsors: boys and their dates enjoyed the delicious meal prepared by the restaurant.

Interact would like to express their thanks to Dr. Herbert Lloyd and Mr. Thomas Murphree for serving as their sponsors for this year. Dr. Lloyd is the representative of Rotary Club and Mr. Murphree is the chemistry teacher at Belle Glade High.

President Tommy Altman spoke to the members and guests, and then presided in the installation of next year's officers. The officers are: President, Charles Johnson; Vice President, Paul White; Secretary, Ruben Ledema; and Treasurer, Sonny Crawford.

Congratulations to the new officers and best of luck to the Interact Club of 1969.

Mary Helen, do you really have sun poisoning or is it Jungle Rot?

Rosanne W., Vickie B., and Pam W., don't stop sign mean anything to you girls? Or, are your minds on something else?

Jack P., are you allergic to sixth period band class?

Jimmy B., Jay R., David M., what's the special attraction at Lou's?

Mr. Stevens, what's this about Happiness? We hear you've been there lately.

Suzie, Bruce, Rosanne, and Ronnie why didn't you pull the lever on the airplane. Are you afraid of heights?

Suzanne L., how are you and Glenn getting along?

Jorge R., why were those beer cans tied to your car Saturday night?

Brenda W., just who is BETH from Palm Beach?

President's Farewell

The time has come for closing books and long last looks must end, but at I leave I know I'm leaving my best friends who taught me right from wrong and weak from strong that's a lot to learn. Most of all I feel that having served as your Vice President and President the members of the Lake Shore Family have given me more essential things such as the ability to work with a large group of people, the will to fight when there is no one else to fight and most of all you have instilled in me the desire to strive for the top although there will be obstacles of many kinds.

Sure, there have been times when there was nothing left in me but the will to hold on. During those times, like any other student I was willing to stop; but I realized a gutter will never win and a winner will never quit. Then one day while leisurely reading I discovered a poem that was dear and has really given me the courage and inspiration I needed to tackle any problem. "If" By Rudyard Kipling.

If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you;
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting too;
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
Or being lied about, don't deal in lies,
Or being hated, don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise;
If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with Kings—nor lose the common touch;
If neither friends nor foes can hurt you,
If all men count with you, but none too much;
If you can fail—the unforgiving minute,
With sixty seconds' worth of distance run—
Yours is the Earth and everything that is in it,
And—which is more—
You'll be a man, my friend!
Farewell to you the Lake Shore Family '68.

Class Poem for Class of '68

We have finally reached the top of the stairs
We are about to realize the answer to our prayers
We have ended the years of childish ways
We enter into society for what it is worth and pay
It is time that we must walk in our adult life we must now begin
It is time that we as individuals must seek
The goals of success on a higher peak
We must reach now for the sky
And snatch the opportunities flying by.

The time has come when we must take a stand
Our civic duties we must understand
Our contribution to society we must give
To make this world a better place in which to live
We must now put to use our tools
Which we have acquired from Lake Shore High School
The tools which must take us through the door
The tools which shall live forever more

The Seniors of '68
Have finally approached the goal
We shall enter in with grace
Letting no one slow our pace
We have reached a new walk in life
A walk which took twelve years of strife

We have come to the beginning of a new and rugged road
We must fight the blowing stormy winds
And carry our share of the load
We will climb the high mountain
And swim the treading sea
This will be made possible
Because of our beloved community

We walk into society with an air of dignity
With thanks to our administration and our faculty
We thank you for the days well spent
For the lives you helped to lead
For all the joys and happiness
Which because of you we now cherish.

We'll say good-bye with a sad yet grateful sigh
But don't (worst) of all dear Lake Shore High
For you we must now say good-bye.

Standing at the Crossroads Senior Class Song

We're standing at the crossroads of life
We're standing at the crossroads of life
Don't know which way to go
Don't know which way to turn
Soon we're leaving the school that we love
For Lake Shore our hearts will yearn
So we're standing at the crossroads of life
When we were here — you must agree
We ran around and caused misery
But we love you and can't deny
That without you we're surely lost
It hurts to leave you
And it hurts to say goodbye
We're standing at the crossroads of life
Just standing at the crossroads of life
Don't know which way to turn
Don't know which way to turn
There'll be tears on our cheeks
Cause we're approaching the peak
Heartache and emotions
Heartbreak and devotion
Loving, caring, but it's despairing
Trying to be true to you, all ways loving you
So we're standing at the crossroads of life
Just standing at the crossroads of life
Don't know which way to turn
Now we're standing at the crossroads.
Don't know which way to go
Don't know which way to turn
Which way shall we go?

Dr. Jenkins To Speak At Commencement

On Friday evening, June 7, 1968, at 8 p.m. Dr. Thomas M. Jenkins, President of Albany, Georgia, will speak for the largest graduating class in the history of Lake Shore Junior-Senior High School.

Dr. Jenkins is a graduate of West Virginia State College and Boston University. He has been listed in Who's Who in American Education; Who's Who in the South and Southwest; and Directory of American Scholars. He has been cited by Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity; Theta Chi Fraternity; Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society; and Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society.

Dr. Jenkins is married to Evelyn Kay Jenkins and the father of one son, Thomas III. The public is cordially invited to attend all commencement activities of the 1968 graduating class of Lake Shore Junior-Senior High School.

Rev. Rivers To Speak June 2 at Baccalaureate

Baccalaureate services for the 1968 graduating class of Lake Shore Junior-Senior High School will be held in the high school gymnasium Sunday, June 2 at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

The Reverend Eddie J. Rivers, Administrator of the Sarah Hunt Methodist Children's Home, Daytona Beach, Florida, has been invited to speak at this year's graduation class.

Reverend Rivers is a native Floridian, having attended Public Schools in Gainesville, Florida. His B.A. degree was received from Clark College, Atlanta, Georgia. Reverend Rivers later attended Camden Theological Seminary where he received the Bachelor of Divinity degree, while serving as pastor of the North Carolina Conference.

During his career as a theologian, Reverend Rivers has been cited by Bethune Cookman College for Religion and Human Relations; twice awarded a citation by the Negro College Fund for his support of Negro Higher Education; and cited by Reverend Methodist Hospital for volunteer Chaplaincy service. Reverend Rivers is also a member of the North Carolina Clergyman in the Methodist Church.

The public is invited to be present for this year's Baccalaureate exercises.

Outstanding Student Home Economics

Joyce Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Moses Jones of 670 South West 5th Street, Belle Glade, was awarded the Crisco Trophy for her outstanding work in home economics at Lake Shore Jr.-Sr. High School annual Awards Day, May 31, 1968.

The gold trophy was presented to Miss Jones, a senior at Lake Shore Jr.-Sr. High School, by the principal, Charles M. McCurdy. In presenting the Crisco Trophy, Mr. McCurdy congratulated Joyce on the excellence she has shown in her work and said he "felt certain her achievement in home economics at Lake Shore Jr.-Sr. High School and plans to continue her studies at Palm Beach Junior College."

What if . . .

Graduation day is near and some of our students will be leaving dear old Lake Shore. But what if it were possible that the class of '69 had . . .

Keeping a Sharp Eye on the Sophomores

Most of my shifts have belts, but I don't usually wear them as belts. They come in handy as eating handkerchiefs, making a simple shirt look more like a special outfit.

When you are about to clean your room, attach a small paper bag to your apron or jeans. If you can drop stray bobby pins, clips and other "rescued" items.

For a swifter cleaned closet, remove the sweater from a bar of soap and cover the wrapper with nail. Tie a ribbon around the top and hang the soap from a hook in your closet.

When you re-decorate your room, the wastebasket needs a new look, too. Cover it with gift wrapping paper in a gay print and pretty colors. The same paper can be used in drawers and on shelves giving a bright, new look to your room.

To save time and crumple when you're slicing a cake, use the shade designed and add some nail polish thinner. (Practical—and fun!)

I'm six feet-one (a girl—would you believe it) and quite big in all areas. Not fat, just big. I'm not ugly and I feel I have friends of my kind. I have girls friends, but I must have been a big school-moose overlooked in the rush of the popularity contest. I know boys like the feminine girl, but how can you be feminine when you're the size of a football player? The sick of people mocking me, laughing at me and talking behind their hands. I've been told about the ease of being different in a way you cannot help—and to learn to ignore the thoughtless cruel behavior of others. But be cheered: this need not go on all your life. The world is getting larger all the time. "Tall girls do and happen to be—they are admired and even envied, and they have a successful career. You probably will take a little longer than others, however, to get started.

The quick smile, the appreciative glance, the warm personality are your secret weapons as much as any other gift. Because you are tall, you must be especially careful not to be aloof, and not be over-aggressive. Because of the snail-gaited hunkies look.

FAREWELL—
Mills M. Cromwell

Editor's Farewell To Janice Perry To Serve As Editor

It's been a rough year for me being Editor of the Bobcat Page for the school year '68. But in more ways than one it has been a rewarding one. I have come to realize even more so the responsibility of thousands depending on you to do your job. It's been a job to write, find and print news for the school term for approximately 36 weeks but it had to be done and we the members of the staff of '68 did it whether it was small or large.

In my welcome address as the editor for the page for '69 I vowed to you the public and the Lake Shore family to do "my best" in the writing of the Bobcat Page. Being editor was a challenge but even though I have enjoyed myself I've gotten the thrill out of being editor of the page and the rough bumps for neglecting my responsibility.

I feel that I along with Mrs. Potts, our Newspaper Editor, and the members of the staff of '68 that we have done our job and I hope that next year's is an even better one for our editor-in-chief '69 Janice Perry, and her staff.

I Janice Perry would like to express my deepest gratitude to those of you who supported me as your editor-in-chief, which I am now curiously about to take in the fall school year. I wish to say that I will do as I stated earlier, chief, '69 which I am now curiously about to take in the fall school year. I wish to say that I will do as I stated earlier, chief, '69 which I am now curiously about to take in the fall school year. I wish to say that I will do as I stated earlier, chief, '69 which I am now curiously about to take in the fall school year.

Community Development Conference For Florida In June

Industrial development trends in the southeast, state community awards programs, beautification, agricultural business trends, county and municipal park development and leadership in the attractions industry highlight the 17th annual conference of the Southeastern Community Development Association. The Association will meet at Indian Rocks Beach, Florida on June 12 and 13.

Dr. John C. Caldwell, Chancellor of North Carolina State University will be the conference's key speaker according to Mark M. Wheeler, president of the southeastern regional organization.

Wheeler, who is also Director of Community Development for the Florida Power Corporation, reported that other speakers at the conference include Richard Hackendahl, Director of the National Council on Planning and Resources of Washington D. C., John M. Lewis, Executive Vice President of the Kentucky State Chamber of Commerce, James P. Jones, Executive Director, Orlando-Orange County Industrial Board, Richard I. McLaughlin, Industrial Development Manager of the Florida Power Corporation, and others.

"We are inviting any organization in the southeast interested in Community Development to attend the conference," Wheeler said, "for we are all working to better the places in which we live. Our conferences have never been limited to membership only. Information on the conference may be secured from the Secretary, SECDA, Knoxville Chamber of Commerce, Knoxville, Tennessee. The Knoxville Chamber has served as our headquarters since our organization in 1952."

SECDA promotes community development in all its phases throughout the southeast, and includes in its membership organizations and individuals from the 13 southeastern states below the Mason-Dixon Line including Texas. Membership includes community development specialists in utilities companies, chambers of commerce, banks, extension services of colleges, agricultural related industries and state, sectional, area and local community development groups.

Fulton Kills Mass Teacher Transfer Rumor

Superintendent Robert W. Fulton made the following statement at the May 20 meeting of the Palm Beach County School Board.

"It was recently reported by someone, at some level — and sometimes I cannot fathom how such reports get out — that 70 per cent of the (classroom teacher) personnel in this county may be transferred."

"This is erroneous, wrong, and misrepresents the truth. It is not the truth, never will be the truth. Therefore, I want it quashed. This is nothing but rumor."

"There will be none of this (large scale) mass transfer of personnel . . . (Such statements) are rumors, and, of course, we have many rumors circulating regarding school matters."

Board Chairman Dr. A. Donald Thorp added the following comment:

"I am glad you (Mr. Fulton) have (clarified) . . . for the Charlotte-Hickory board these disturbing thoughts from school teachers who envisioned a mass transfer, higher and you, without rhyme nor reason (Mr. Fulton) have so stated, there is no basis in fact for it at all."

(Directly under discussion was the proposal for future centralized assigning of teachers being presented to the Board by Assistant Superintendent Ed Clyde E. Harris. Immediately prior to Mr. Fulton's statement, Board member Mr. Robert M. Hooker had noted, . . . Another reason (besides desegregation) for central assignment (is) to improve procedure for hiring new teachers." It was also stated in this discussion that principals will continue to be involved in hiring processes).

Sportsmen Spend Over $183 Million

TALLAHASSEE — It's no secret that hunting and fishing is one of Florida's great industries and that it accounts in large measure for the Sunshine State's annual tourist business. The recreational delights of these sports are matched by a growing awareness that — dollar-wise — hunting and fishing contributes to the bank account of all Florida citizens.

According to W. B. Copeland, chairman of the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, hunters and fresh water fishermen contributed more than an estimated $183 million to Florida's expanding economy during the fiscal year 1966-67, and will contribute even more during the year, ending June 30.

Copeland said, "During the fiscal year 1966-67, resident and non-resident sportsmen spent $183,654,735 for hunting and fishing licenses. This license fee is used by the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission to support the business of hunting and fishing in Florida."

He added, "Our survey of fishing pressure indicates that approximately fifty percent of the fresh water fishermen in Florida do not purchase a fishing license and therefore do not contribute to the support of the hunting and fishing business in Florida."
